Components

Instructions:

Step 1

Cut your sari silk into 6 x 30cm length pieces, try not to stretch the sari silk when measuring. Then cut a 15cm length of 26ga silver wire. Now find the middle of your sari silk pieces, and using your wire twist it around the silk to hold all the pieces together. Trim off any excess wire.

Step 2

Take your 30cm of silver cable chain and cut it into following three lengths – 14cm, 10cm and 6cm. With the 5 beads you have chosen and the 5 silver headpins thread each bead onto each separate headpin and make a wrapped loop at the top of each bead.

Step 2

Step 3

Using your 5mm silver jump rings attach the wing drop charm to the bottom of the 10cm length chain you have already cut. Using a jump ring attach the dragonfly charm to the end of the 6cm chain. And finally connect the 5 wire looped beads with jump-rings to the 14cm chain as shown in the picture.

Step 3

Step 4

Cut a 15cm length of 18ga silver wire. Wrap one end around the centre of your sari silk and twist the wire securely. You should now have a tail of wire to use to thread your bead cap on and beads.

Step 4

Step 5

Slide your bead cap over the top of the wire and sari silk, then add your silver beads and spacers as shown in the picture.

Step 5

Step 6

Make a simple loop at the top of the bead using your flat nose and round nose pliers. Add the 9mm jump ring to complete. With the other 9mm jump ring thread on your three pieces of bejewelled chain.

Thread both jump-rings over your ball chain and your necklace is now completed.

You have now made yourself a Sari Silk Charm Tassel Necklace.

Variation: Instead of Sari Silk you can use a regular silk tassel (our 77mm silk tassels work well)
